

Here's a quick guide for how we will support you to do your best throughout your exams.

Morning exams

1) Pre-exam breakfasts

For each of your morning exams, you are invited to breakfast from 8:15 with your subject teachers. Upon arrival, head for the appropriate pod for your subject where your teachers will supply you with brain food, juice, and most importantly, some reassurance if you have any last-minute questions or thoughts.

2) Morning briefings

At 8:40, if you have a 9:00 exam, you will have a briefing in the Dining Hall (or Library if there are fewer of you) where a subject expert will remind you of what to expect when you open your exam paper.

If you do not have a morning exam, you should go to your tutor room as normal for registration.

Afternoon exams

1) Pre-exam briefing

For afternoon exams, go to the Dining Hall at the start of Period 4, where a subject expert will remind you of what to expect when you open your exam paper.

2) Early lunch

Chartwells will be serving lunches from 12:45 for Year 11 students with afternoon exams.

Revision opportunities

Monday 16th May

We are able to offer additional revision sessions on Monday 16th May from 3pm until 4pm in English, maths, history and Spanish.

After-college revision

After-college revision will run as normal during the exam season.

Half-term revision

We are looking to run revision sessions in the first three days of the half-term holiday. We will be in touch next week to let you know what sessions are running.
